Congressional Proceedings.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—SENATE—Among the department communications presented and referred was one asking an appropriation of $15,000 for an addition to the San Francisco Postoffice.

Regan gave notice of several amendments which he proposed to offer to the Elections bill.

The Committee on Naval Affairs reported a bill providing for a reduction of the engineer corps of the navy, under the Act of August 5th, 1882, be considered as having ceased on June 30th, 1889—to calendar.

Among the bills introduced and referred are the following:

By Wolcott—To provide for coinage at the Branch Mint of Denver.

By Farwell—To amend the Silver Act of last session.

Senator Farwell to-day introduced a bill to amend Section 1 of the present Silver bill, so as to direct the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase all silver bullion, offered at the market price, not exceeding $1 for 371.25 grains of pure silver, and issue in payment United States Treasury notes.

Senator Wolcott introduced a bill to make applicable certain sections of the revised statutes, so that hereafter the coinage of gold and silver may be carried on at the Branch Mint at Denver.

HOUSE—The House passed a bill authorizing the Corpus Christie and Padre Island Harbor Company to construct a harbor off the shore of Padre Island, coast of Texas.

J. W. Hathaway was elected Postmaster of the House.

Newlands on Deck.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Silver Committee was held here at noon. After an informal discussion, General A. J. Warner of Ohio and Francis G. Newlands of Nevada were appointed a committee to draft resolutions and an address to be presented to Congress, urging the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The committee was instructed to report to-morrow.

There were present to-day General A. J. Warner of Ohio, Chairman; Lee Crandall of the District of Columbia, Secretary; Francis G. Newlands, Nevada; Thomas H. Nelson, Indiana; George B. Williams, District of Columbia; Edward Curtis, California; W. Porter, Virginia.

Labor Federation.
By Associated Press.]

DETROIT (Mich.), Dec. 10.—At the convention of American Federation this morning a number of telegrams were received from the secretary of the Coasting Sailors' Union of the Pacific Coast, calling attention to a pending bill in Congress for the enforced shipments of seamen. The secretary urged immediate attention to the bill on the ground that if it is passed, an organization of seamen will become an impossibility. It is thought to be a move on the part of vessel owners to break up the sailors' unions.

A resolution was offered that the painters and decorators, wherever the local unions are strong, should strike for eight hours on May 1st next.

A Strike.
By Associated Press.]

NEWARK (N. J.), Dec. 10.—The entire force of Clark's thread mills of this city and Kearney struck this morning. Over 3,000 men and women are out. The strikers have decided to remain out until the discharged men are reinstated and a limit put on Superintendent Walmsley's power.

Squeezing the Swindlers.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—It having been stated at the Postoffice Department that mails sent from Mexico into the United States recently have been burdened with circulars of Mexican lotteries, inclosed in sealed envelopes, the corners of which were clipped and postage paid at the rate of one cent, which is permissible under Mexican postal laws—the Postmaster General has been in correspondence with the Director General of Posts of Mexico on this subject, and it has been agreed that the lottery circulars referred to shall no longer be carried in the mails or delivered to addresses in this country.

Large Land Purchase.
By Associated Press.]

"The Crow Indians, in full council, to-day sold their lands west of the divide on Brice's creek and an adjoining strip on the southeast of Big Horn, 15 miles wide. The consideration is $964,000. The treaty is now being signed by a large majority of individual Indians. The number of acres purchased is 1,850,000.

Windom's Bond Redemption.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Secretary Windom's action to-day indicates very plainly that he does not care to apply more than $8,000,000 of the surplus at present to the purchase of four per cent. bonds. The offerings to-day aggregated nearly $2,000,000, of which over $1,000,000 was offered at 1 23½. The Secretary, however, confined his acceptance to $220,000 at $1 23 and $7,000 at $1 23⅝. This makes the total purchases to date, $7,995,850.

National Board of Trade.
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—At this morning's session of the National Board of Trade, the meeting agreed to reconsider the vote by which a resolution endorsing the Torrey bankruptcy bill and urging its immediate passage by the United State Senate was defeated last night. DOCTOR KOCH,

The Recent Discoverer of a Cure for Consumption.

Dr. Koch, whose fame during the last few weeks has gone forth to the ends of the civilized world as the discoverer of the cure for consumption, was until ten years ago an obscure country physician. His practice and his reputation did not extend beyond the limits of the little town of Woolstein, a place so small and so unimportant that it is only with much difficulty that it can be found upon the map. It was while there that his name came before the public in 1880 as an expert in connection with the famous Speichert poisoning case. The conviction of the prisoner in this cause celebre was entirely owing to the remarkable analyses and medical testimony of Dr. Koch, which attracted such widespread attention by reason of their profound erudition that he was summoned to Berlin to take his seat as a member of the Sanitary Commission of the metropolis and as a Professor of the Royal School of Medicine.

Not Built that Way.

The gallant Georgia editor, in answer to a query if he had ever seen a bald-headed woman, says: "No, we never did. Why should we? Nor we never saw a woman waltzing around town in her shirt sleeves with a cigar between her teeth, stepping into every saloon she saw; a woman going fishing with a bottle in each pocket, sitting on the damp ground all day and going home drunk at night. Neither have we seen a woman yank off her coat, spit on her hands and say she can lick any son of a gun in town. No, God bless her; she ain't built that way.

Western Union Telegraph Company's Report.

Enthusiastically Received.
By Cable and Associated Press.]

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—Parnell arrived at Kingston early this morning. A body guard of 200 of his supporters, the Parnell leadership committee and other deputations from Dublin were there to receive him. Dr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Leamy, Henry Barrington and Edward Harrington were the first members of Parnell's party to leave the steamer, and they were loudly cheered. Timothy Healy, Maurice Healy and Mr. Kenny, opponents of Parnell, traveled in the same boat. As they came ashore they were subjected to hostile demonstrations by the crowd, while there were shouts for Parnell mingled with cheers for Mrs. O'Shea.

Parnell was the last to quit the boat. As he proceeded to the train the crowd became enthusiastic in their demonstrations, and he was cheered again and again. A number of addresses were presented to him, in reply to which he expressed thanks for his welcome, and said he did not fear the result of the fight; that he never led the Irish party wrong in the past and would not in the future.

The train then pulled out, and after a short run arrived at Dublin, where a large crowd was assembled. As soon as the train stopped Timothy Healy hurriedly descended from the coach and entered a cab and was driven away. He was recognized by the crowd, however, before he reached the cab, and was greeted with groans and shouts of "Chief Justice Healy."

The crowd was so dense that it was with some difficulty that Parnell made his way through. Finally he reached a cab, which he entered with Joseph E. Kenny, when the crowd surrounded the cab, unharnessed the horses and pulled him through the dark streets until they reached Kenny's house. As the cab rolled along the streets the crowd followed singing "God Save Ireland." Parnell gave active exercise to a dozen stalwart policemen who followed. Upon his arrival at Kenny's house Parnell made a brief speech to the crowd. Later in the day he will attend a meeting of a committee of the National League.

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—The newspaper United Ireland has got into trouble through its persistent advocacy of the retirement of Parnell, who is one of the directors of the company owning the paper. Acting in that capacity he to-day seized the paper, stopped the issue of the current edition and ejected acting editor Bodkin. Parnell's agent has taken possession of the paper.

When Bodkin entered the office he found Parnell in possession. Parnell, in the presence of the directors, read the articles of association under which the company was organized, and then ordered the Sheriff to eject Bodkin. The latter made an ineffectual resistance. A desperate row occurred in the down-stairs office between the Sheriff's officers and the sub-editors. Sticks and stools were used and the air was filled with flying missles. Finally, after a sharp and fierce struggle, the sub-editors were put out of the building.

The news of the seizure created a great excitement, and a mob surrounded the office.

Parnell later addressed the staff, the members of which promised to serve him during the remainder of the crisis. Parnell placed Leamy in charge of the paper.

It is stated that Parnell owns 374 of the 500 shares of the capital stock of the company. Dr. Joseph E. Kenny, Justin McCarthy and the remainder of the editors who were ejected will sue Parnell for assault.

Bodkin, in an interview subsequent to his removal, said the edition of the paper which Parnell destroyed contained many resolutions adopted by provincial branches of the National League opposing Parnell. Also a cable dispatch from O'Brien saying: "Abide by my instructions, and insist moderately but firmly upon Parnell's retirement as a sine qua non."

On the street to-day a hostile crowd threatened Healy, who was compelled to seek police protection.

Railroad and Telegraph News.
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—It is learned from authorative sources that all railroads west of Chicago, the presidents of which have been invited to a conference at the house of J. Pierpont Morgan, on Monday, in this city, for the purpose of a renewal of the "presidents' agreement," have signified an acceptance of the invitation with the exception of the Chicago & Alton. This road declined to take any part in the conference.

The Western Union Directors today declared their regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. The statement of the president shows, net earnings for the current quarter, $2,000,000. After paying the interest and sinking fund and the dividend, a net surplus of $680,000 is left.

A Reported Riot.
By Associated Press.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.), Dec. 10.—Sheriff Smith, with a posse of fifty armed men, left last night for the Blue Rock coal mines, twenty-five miles away, to quell a riot reported in progress there. No particulars were obtained, beyond the fact of a collision between the strikers and the negro miners who have taken their places. There are a thousand of the strikers.

Fifteen deputy Sheriffs spent last night at the Blue Creek mines as a precaution against trouble. Several of the labor leaders were present to stop the men from working who had taken the places of the strikers. They were arrested this morning and brought to Birmingham. No disturbance has occurred.

The Pope's Temporal Authority Denied.
By Cable and Associated Press.]

ROME, Dec. 19.—Parliament convened to-day. King Humbert said that Italy was faithful to her foreign alliance, and the cordial friendship between the powers has dissipated any danger of international complications. In conclusion, he said: "Following my father's example, I always respected the rights of my ancestors' religion, but I will never suffer my sovereign authority to be degraded in that religion's name." This utterance was greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Sufferings of the Russian Jews.
By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A meeting of influential persons was held at the Mansion House to-day to consider the condition of the Jews in Russia. The Lord Mayor presided. The Duke of Westminster moved a resolution deploring the suffering of the Jews in that country. The Duke said the Czar and Czarina were ignorant of the miserable condition of the Jews. Lord Ripon seconded the motion, which was carried. A committee was appointed to communicate the views of the meeting to the Czar.

Dull Coal Market.
By Associated Press.]

WILKESBARRE (Pa.), Dec. 10.—Owing to the continued quietness in the coal trade and the large stocks, with no immediate prospect of being able to market them, the coal department of the Lackawanna Railroad has ordered the indefinite closing down of its mines in this vicinity. The order took effect this morning. It will throw thousands out of employment and cause much suffering.

To-Day's Stock Market.
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Stocks opened quiet, with a firm undertone, though lower than last night's closing. Northern Pacific was down seven-eighths, which was recovered with something more; later Union Pacific was very weak, losing 1⅛. The downward movement was checked, and with more active business, prices rose to above the opening figures, Atchison and Union Pacific leading and Northern Pacific following. At 11 the market was firm at about the best prices reached.

Stocks became less active after 11 and again declined small fractions. Union Pacific was specially weak, with a loss of 1⅛ for the hour and 2⅜ since last evening. Atchison and Northern Pacific preferred showed considerable animation. The market at noon was fairly active and heavy at fractions of decline from the opening.

Stocks closed quiet and heavy at the lowest prices reached.

A Suggestion.

"What's everybody's business is nobody's business" is an old and trite saying. Without some concerted action on the part of our people we cannot expect to enlist capital in any enterprise within our border, for we have no one to call the attention of capital seeking investment, and it is not eager to come into a State that has been dwindling in population when taxes are high without an invitation. We think the Legislature could put in a week profitably by devoting itself to studying up some kind of a rec'amation scheme that is feasible, and appointing a committee to lay the project before capital, and in that way set the ball in motion. Most assuredly we will not have much attention paid to us with California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Colorado and Wyoming all working to build up their sections, and offering capital every inducement to invest. We have got to make a beginning some time if we ever expect to amount to anything, so why not begin now? We simply throw this out as a hint to the Legislature that something should be done. We believe that if the State would take hold of the matter honestly, with a fixed and steady purpose to bring it about, much good would come of such a movement. We have not money of our own, and our rich men show no disposition to help us out, so we have got to reach the eye and ear of outside money. If every one in the State had done as much towards bringing in foreign capital as the press has done, Nevada would be knee-deep with the dollars of our daddies, and we would not only produce what we consume, but a good deal more, and be supplying other States with what they cannot raise.

EVIDENTLY the silver men in Congress mean business this winter. They are, says the Salt Lake Tribune, determined to bring around free coinage. They have behind them a constituency which includes almost all the workers of our country and Great Britain. The situation has greatly changed in the last two years. Then the creditor class of the East, almost to a man, looked upon the claims of the silver men as not only preposterous, but positively dishonest, and those who talked wisest about "sound finances" insisted that the Bland law ought to be repealed. Now, if left to a vote of the country the majority for free coinage would be absolutely overwhelming. In such a situation we believe the President would sign a free coinage bill if it were to go up to him demanded by both Houses of Congress.

THE political virtue of the Examiner is overwhelming. It wants the next Democratic House to consider with perfect impartiality the case of Miller, the contesting Republican from South Carolina. The Bullitin says: Of course this is an intimation that the Democrats will not be impartial unless egged on by their own organs. As the Examiner has no personal interest in this contest, and the Democrats will have about 140 majority in the next House, virtue is cheap.

The resolutions adopted Monday by the Way and Means Committee to refund a portion of the tobacco tax abolished by the McKinley Tariff bill, and to except the Hawaiian Treaty from any operation of the bill tending to defeat its provisions is merely to correct unintentional deects of the Act which crept in during the haste with which its consideration was completed.

THE greatest stumbling block in the farmer's road to success seems to be the Farmers' Alliance. Members of the party have begun to raise a beautiful crop of disturbance and factional feelings.

"HE never smiled again" is the title of some floating machine verses, but there is nothing to indicate whether he died or joined the Prohibitionists.

PARNELL'S remarks concerning Gladstone suggest those of one of his countrymen who wrote home to Texas that he was "a biger man than old Grant."

RESCUING A POLICY.

A Life Insurance Man Saves a Snug Little Sum for His Company.

"The swindling of life insurance companies by conspirators is an old story," an officer in one of the big Broadway companies said to a New York correspondent, "but the way we sometimes get even with them and defeat their purposes is not so well known. A local agent and the consulting physician of the town may conspire with the executors of a rich man's will, and with the rich man himself, to report him to the New York company as sound and health, sober and industrious, with the understanding that each is to get a slice of the company's money after death. Even if the company learns after death that the application was founded on lies, the money is often paid, unless the amount is very large, rather than earn the reputation of contesting policies in the courts. The president of the company told me one morning a fortnight ago to take my grip and start for a large town in Illinois and learn whether it was true, as he had learned from an unknown correspondent, that a man who had recently obtained a policy for $5,000 was very dissipated. In that case I was to get the policy and bring it back to be cancelled if possible. There was the rub—to get the policy. It required considerable tact, any way, and if the man should refuse to give it up it would cost the insurance company a good deal of money to contest it after his death. I went to the town, knowing only the name of the man and that he was worth $100,000. Of course every one I met spotted me for a stranger and sidled up to me to know what I was in town for. It would not do to let it go abroad that I was a life insurance agent, and especially if I should begin to inquire about our risk, so I said I was interested in getting money on Western mortgages. It was not difficult after that to make my way to our policyholder's house on the plea of getting him to invest in mortgages. He was in bed, drunk, and as I afterward learned, was drunk all the time. But he had a good head for business, even when in his cups. 'Well?' he said, inquiringly. I told him flatly I had come to take away his policy. He kicked. He kicked long and hard, while I argued on moral grounds of the unfairness of his act, and he finally put out his hand and said, while tears started from his eyes: 'I'm glad to meet an honest man. Call my wife in.' His wife came in, and at his direction brought in a tin box, put it on a chair at the bedside and went out. 'The insurance policies are in there somewhere. Take them,' he said. I opened the box and took out $24,000 in Government bonds and then the insurance policy. The business of releasing the company from all obligation being accomplished, I met the man's wife at the door and she wanted to know my business. I told her. 'I'm glad of it,' she said. 'I remonstrated at the time the policy was obtained, but without avail. The physician and the local agent of the company are bound to have the money. My husband will die in a few months without doubt. He is a confirmed drunkard.'"

SOME COINCIDENCES.

A Bible Lesson That Was Appropriate in More Ways Than One.

An old friend (call him W.) relates how, while he was in Florida last winter, his watch stopped one evening. Since it was a very good watch, and never stopped before, and had been duly wound the evening before, W. was much surprised that it wouldn't go. By and by the head of the house (call him B.) came in. "Will you please give me the time?" said W. "Certainly," said B., and pulled out his watch. B. had a time-piece which was entirely trustworthy, not given to irregularities of any kind. He pulled it out of his pocket. "By Jove!" he exclaimed, "my watch is stopped; that's queer." They compared the two watches, and they had stopped at the same hour and the same minute; and why they had stopped neither man was able to discover.

None of the coincidences so far related was as droll as another which has just come to the Boston Transcript Listener's notice. Within a hundred miles of Boston there is a pleasant little Episcopal chapel where services are regularly conducted, and where a cabinet organ which stands at one side of the church is played by a young lady from a neighboring parish who kindly comes in for the purpose. As the organ is situated in a somewhat inconvenient place at one side of the chapel, and as the young lady knows the service thoroughly well, she is in the habit of leaving the organ when no music is needed, and passing around at the back of the room and sitting with the congregation. At exactly the right moment she leaves this place and returns to the organ for the music. The other Sunday, as she was seated in a pew, she got her "cue" in the service, and rose softly to go around to her post. As she moved out of the pew her skirt caught upon a nail, and, with a tear that loudly echoed through the chapel, her gown was torn almost its whole length. She was in confusion, but the minister, of course, did not interrupt the holy service. He was reading the morning lesson from the second chapter of the Book of Joel, and went directly on with the passage before him:

"And rend your heart and not your garments."

Here the congregation was dangerously near a snicker; and the clergyman himself, suddenly struck with the extraordinary aptness of the passage he had read, was obliged to suspend his reading for at least a moment, while he overcame a perfectly natural impulse to burst into a fit of laughter.

Wanted to Change Shoes.

It is related of a horse at Janesville, Wis., noted for his intelligence, that during a recent storm, finding that his shoes were too smooth for comfort during a slippery trip, he pushed the barn door open and started on a steady trot for the blacksmith's. Once in the shop he stood back and waited his turn as decorously as though "going-a-shopping" on his own hook was an every day occurrence. Finally one of the men brought out his tools and began tapping on the four-footed customer's shoes as though putting on a new set. The animal showed unmistakable signs of approval, and when the hammering was finished trotted out and made his way home, perfectly contented.

JOTTINGS.

C. J. Brookins is fast filling his store with the prettiest stock of toys ever seen in the town.

In many Nevada towns you will pay half a dollar for a less inviting meal than J. J. Becker treats his friends to every day in the week.

No matter what hour of the day or night you pass the Arcade, you always see its tables well patronized by those in want of the best to be had for coin.

C. A. Thurston's stock of holiday goods are attracting the careful attention of those looking for something particularly nice for Christmas presents.

The Riverside Hotel continues to receive the patronage of those who enjoy and appreciate first-class accommodations, and Chamberlain is kept busylooking after their wants.

E. C. Leadbetter's stock of both green and parched coffee is not excelled by any grocer in the State. He also carries a full line of the best dried fruits of the crop of 1890.

As this reporter is unable to name the many pretty things Miss Emma Gibbs is selling at San Francisco retail prices, he will suggest that all the ladies of Reno and vicinity pay her place a visit at an early day.

"Is this the best?" Is the question often asked, when medicine is wanted The following are a few of the medicines of known reliability, sold by Shoemaker & Co., druggist of this place. They have many other excellent medicines, but these are worthy of especial mention:

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of severe colds, and as a preventative for croup. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm, a general family liniment and especially valuable for rheumatism. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, the most reliable known medicine for bowel complaints. It is especially prized by persons subject to colic. It has cured many cases of chronic diarrhœa. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

St. Patricks Pills for disorders of the liver and bowels a vigorous but gentle physic that cleanses and renovates the whole system. Price 25 cts. per box.

Chamberland's Eye and Skin Ointment. For tetter, salt rheum, scaldhead, eczema and chronic sore eyes. Price 25 cents.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggists a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflamation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping cough, croup, and etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon.

Trial bottles free at Wm. Pinniger's Druggist.

A Great Liver Medicine.

Dr. Gun's Improved Liver Pills are a sure cure for sick headache, bilious complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion, costiveness, torpid liver, etc. These pills insure perfect digestion, correct the liver and stomach, regulate the bowels, purify and enrich the blood and make the skin clear. They also produce a good appetite, and invigorate and strengthen the entire system by their tonic action. Sold at 25 cents a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. Wm. Pinniger druggist.

The question has been asked. "In what respect are St. Patrick's Pills better than any other?" Try them. You will find that they produce a pleasanter cathartic effect, are more certain in their action, and that they not only physic but cleanse the whole system and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale at 25 cents per box by Shoemaker & Co.

The Place to Buy.

A. Nelson, of the Free Intelligence Office, Virginia street, carries a fine stock of the best tobaccos, Havana and Key West cigars, notions, cutlery gents' underwear, overalls, buckskin gloves, suspenders and Dr. "Willey's Discovery."

AUSTRALIAN BALLOT SYSTEM.

How the Law Works in Washington and Wyoming.

The GAZETTE has written to the Governors of Wyoming and Washington for copies of their election laws, which were drafted from the Australian ballot system, with a request that they suggest any change they deemed advisable. The following letter from the private secretary of the Governor of Wyoming will show that the new law works to a charm in that State:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 3, 1890.

Allen C. Bragg, Esq., Editor Gazette, Reno, Nevada — DEAR SIR: The Acting Governor directs me to acknowledge receipt of your letter addressed to Hon. Francis E. Warren, requesting a copy of our election law, etc.

With this mail I send you a copy of said law and beg to inform you that as a whole our new election law, under which our first State election was recently held, is a decided success. Our first State Legislature is at present in session, having convened on the 12th ult., and it is generally understood that some action will be taken relative to curing some minor defects which exist in the law as it at present stands, but such defects are unimportant, but whatever legislation on the matter is accomplished during the present session I shall be pleased to furnish you if you will so request. Very respectfully,

R. H. REPATH,
Private Secretary.

Lieutenant-Governor Charles E. Laughton, now Acting Governor of Washington, writes as follows:

I am in receipt of your favor of the 28th ultimo and it affords me pleasure to mail you to-day a copy of our election law. So far as I am advised (the law having been in operation but little less than one year) our election law has proven most satisfactory. A further trial of our mode of balloting may suggest some improvements upon our present law, but thus far there has seemed to be no objection. It affords the voter the most ample protection in his balloting, and, in my opinion, exercises a most beneficial tendency towards preserving the purity of the ballot.

HELD FOR LIBEL.

Arthur McEwen Held for Libel, but Promptly Gives Bail.

Arthur McEwen has been held by Judge Goss of San Francisco in the sum of $2,000 to answer to a charge of libel preferred by Justice Fox of the Supreme Court of California. The alleged libel consisted of certain disclosures made by McEwen in one of his syndicate letters. It was intimated that a lawyer named Fox some years ago had seduced a young lady, a member of his household; that he had afterwards ignored his victim and also the child which was the fruit of their illicit intimacy, and which is still living, a dependent upon the bounty of a poor relative of the unhappy mother. McEwen immediately gave bail. He is confident of his ability to prove the facts set forth in his press communication.

To-Night's Entertainment.

Manager W. S. Cleveland, who has been given many "noms de plume" by the "critics" and theatrical profession in general, has received another through the organization of his Colossal Colored Carnival Minstrels, namely, the "Magnifier of Minstrelsy" which is no doubt the most appropriate of all, as he has done more to elevate minstrel entertainments than all the other managers combined; and as a gatherer of novelties, he surpasses the world. For his colored company he has secured genuine colored jugglers, acrobats, necromancers, equilibrists, and all the leading comedians, dancers, singers and musicians.

To appear at McKissick's Opera House this evening.

San Francisco Meat Market.

With the exception of veal, which is not at all plentiful, the market is furnished as well as usual. The following are the rates for whole carcasses from slaughterers to dealers in San Francisco:

BEEF—First quality, 5½@6c; second quality, 5c; third quality, 4½c ₱ lb.
VEAL—Quotable at 6@7c for large and 8@9c ₱ lb for small.
MUTTON—Quotable at 7@7½c ₱ lb.
LAMB—Quotable at 9c ₱ lb.
PORK—Live Hogs, on foot, grain fed 3¾@4¼c; light, 4@4½c; dressed Hogs, 6½@7c ₱ lb.

Misquoted.

Mr. Foley says he has been misquoted by the press. That in any conversation he has ever had touching the holding of a Constitutional Convention he has declared himself strongly in favor of it, and knows of no way the Legislature could select delegates, but says the matter will have to be submitted to the people, and they will select the delegates at the polls.

A Tough Experience.

Word was received by the GAZETTE last evening that Uncle Jacob McKissick, who started from Reno on horseback last Friday for Spanish Springs valley, got lost in the hills and did not arrive at his destination until Saturday, having been twenty-five hours making twelve miles. When discovered he was greatly exhausted, being unable to dismount or to speak.

Cure of Spinal Weakness.

E. F. Woolston, Yates, Orleans Co., N. Y., writes:

"My wife, five years ago, was confined to her bed with inflamatory rheumatism of the muscles of the back. The doctors thought her case hopeless, and doomed her to be a bedridden invalid. The violent pain kept her awake almost every night. She lost over thirty pounds in weight. To ease her pain I thought I would put on Alcock's Porous Plasters. I covered her back with them. To my great delight she began to sleep well. I then took the plasters off, washed her back and put on fresh ones. At the end of the second week she insisted on getting up, and by the third week was entirely well and able to attend to her household duties.

Why cough and suffer with a cold, when Fryer's Abietine will give immediate relief. It contains no opium. Price 75 cts. sold by Wm. Pinniger. The original and genuine Abietine preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. P. FRYER.

THE BEEF MARKET.

A Very Unsatisfactory Outlook for First-Class Meat.

Owing to the drought in California the rough beef is being driven in, and has the effect of keeping the price down. The latter part of January Arizona will command the attention of buyers, and it is said that that Territory has more and better beef this season than for years past. The outlook is anything but flattering. While it is true that in no section of the country can as good beef be produced as right here on the Meadows, it does not seem to make much difference with the San Francisco butchers whether they get a first-class article or third rate, for it is all "beef," and the prices will most likely remain low all winter.

The Riverside Social Club.

A number of gentlemen met at the rooms of the First National Bank last evening and formed a social club, which is to give a series, during the winter, of parties, the first to be held to-morrow evening at Thompson's Hall. The club was organized by the election of C. T. Bender, president; H. B. Rule, vice-president; F. M. Lee, secretary; F. R. Lewis, treasurer, and an executive committee of seven, consisting of the former officers and C. H. Clark, Dr. J. W. Phillips and Dr. Lewis. The members can enjoy a social evening at cards in an adjoining room if they do not feel like dancing.

Notables En Route.

General Benjamin Molina Guirola, Enviado Extraordinario y Ministro Plenipotenciario del Salvador, en los EE., UU. de A., and his suite passed East this morning in a special car attached to the regular overland train. They were in charge of T. D. McKay, Pacific coast passenger agent for the C., B. & Q., who manages to get all foreigners of any note to travel over his road. Mr. McKay knows how to touch the soft side of all notables, and as a result pulls them all into camp. He is very popular with the traveling public, and is constantly making friends for the company he represents.

Put Up and Look Cheerful.

In accordance with the GAZETTE's semi-annual custom, it is sending out delinquent notices. As it takes money to run a printing establishment and lots of it parties knowing themselves to be delinquent are requested to remit. While two or three dollars is not much to an individual, it amounts to something where there are a thousand or fifteen hundred involved. The GAZETTE trusts that no one will take offense, but will put up and look cheerful. The practice is as distasteful to us as it is to any one, but it has to be done.

Playing With the Wind.

The Homer Index tells this about the freaks of a miniature Lundy cyclone: Wm. P. Nay and Jack Hammond, riding a buckboard near the mouth of the canyon, a few days ago, were caught by a whirlwind and thrown quite a distance less than a mile, but far enough to bruise them badly, while the cart was wrecked and the horses stampeded to parts unknown. There was not a cloud in the sky at the time, and one minute after the fracas everything was as quiet as ever.

What's the Matter Now?

The Elko Independent says: The Virginia Chronicle wants to know what the managers of the Democratic campaign in Washoe county, the home of Mr. Winters, did for the State ticket this year. The Independent also is anxious to know what was done, and what disposition was made of the large campaign fund which was collected by the Executive Committee in Washoe county.

"Struck the Golden Mean" as a Blood Purifier.

The Detroit Free Press says: "Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, prepared by the Charles Wright Medicine Company, of this city, has struck the Golden Mean in the treatment of all blood diseases, and its success is an evidence that an honest, pure and valuable medicine, is not incapable of attracting the attention of every family. There seems to be but one opinion as to its merit as a family medicine.

This is the real secret of the success of this wonderful remedy. Its perfect and speedy action, in removing all impure and poisonous matter from blood. No home should be without it, as a thorough and effectual blood purifier for young and old. For sale by all druggists.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

The nights are clear and cold.

The first of the vestibuled dining cars passed East to-day.

Read the 50-cent ad. of a lost mare from Potboff's livery stable.

The Cleveland Minstrel troupe arrived from below on this morning's express.

E. C. Leadbetter is doing a splendid business in the family grocery and country produce line.

Sarah Bernhardt is said to have increased in width until she is no longer called Cleopatra's needle.

The Meadows are at the present time covered with duck-hunters, who kill a large number of the birds every day.

The beef market is anything but satisfactory to the producers Dull sales at low prices seem to be the order of the day.

The GAZETTE is under obligations to Superintendent S. C. Wright of the Carson Mint for a copy of the Mint Director's report for 1890.

Deer is said to be plentiful in the mountains west of Reno, and numerous tracks have been seen at the "Cedars," about twelve miles north of here.

To-day's parade of Cleveland's Minstrels was immense, nearly fifty people being in line. Those who attend to-night's entertainment will be sure to be more than satisfied.

A Truckee Meadows rancher, who wants to know what he ought to get for "kicking cows," is informed that after the first Monday in January he will get twenty days in the chaingang.

The Homer Index gives Nevada the following bit of good advice: "A Carson paper suggests that a mansion be built for the Governor of Nevada. Better start a State hog ranch and make your own bacon and hams."

The veiled woman of Fourth street continues to put in an appearance, although she missed one night since the item appeared in the GAZETTE. It is conjectured by the knowing ones that she is doing a bit of detective work, and that in time it will all be made known to the public.

An Extensive Soap Factory.

An important enterprise has been secured to Coronado, Cal., in the removal to that place of a soap factory from San Bernardino. The capital stock of the company is $50,000. The plant will have a capacity of 10,000 pounds a day.

A Prompt Response.

Budd Blake, a desperado, near Navajo, Springs, A. T., while filled with liquor, ordered two telegraph operators who were returning from hunting to "hold up their hands." His order was answered by a volley from the two men and Blake fell dead.

1,500 MILES.

But She Got It.—A Sample of Letters Daily Received.

Only those who have tried it can know what it is that prompts one to send 1,500 miles for it to get it again. Here is another of many such instances:—

DEAR SIRS: I send $5, for which please return a half dozen of your vegetable sarsaparilla. I have moved here from Sierra City, Cal. I took three bottles before leaving, hence I send all the way back to California for more. It was just before I left Sierra City, about a year ago, that I began to feel very miserable. My skin was very yellow, and I was all pains and aches, especially under my shoulders and in my head. The doctor said it was my liver, and gave me some medicine which relieved me somewhat. One of my neighbors happened in and told me she had started to take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and advised me to try it. I did, and with such good effect that I now feel like a new being. I have persuaded one of my neighbors here to take it, so part of this is for her and part for myself.

MRS. GEO. DELBRIDGE,

The reader, who has not tried it, has no idea what the vegetable juices in this remedy will do for disordered systems.

Malaria

Is believed to be caused by poisonous miasma arising from low, marshy land or from decaying vegetable matter, and which, breathed into the lungs, enter and poison the blood. If a healthy condition of the blood is maintained by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, one is much less liable to malaria, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many severe cases of this distressing affection.

A Wonderful Medicine.

"For malaria I think Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal. It has kept my children well right through the summer, and we live in one of the worst places for malaria in Marysville. I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for that all gone feeling, with great benefit." MRS. B. F. DAVIS, Marysville, Cal.

Break-Bone Fever.

"My daughter Pearl was taken with dengue (or break-bone) fever 2 years ago, and my friends thought I would lose her. I had almost given up hope until she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. BILL GERRITY'S WIFE.

She Strikes the Iron and He Blows the Bellows.

The Woman Blacksmith of Roxbury, Mass.—How She Assists Her Aged Husband—An Irish Girl's Devotion and Muscle.

Who is there in Roxbury, asks the Boston Globe, who hasn't heard of old "Bill" Gerrity, the blacksmith, who for forty years has worked the bellows and pounded the anvil in his little shop on Tremont street, near the Mission church?

If you haven't heard of "Bill" you surely have heard of his wife, who stands at the anvil all day and, with sturdy strokes, swings the hammer and fashions the iron, supple under the heat, while her husband assists her.

"Bill," as he is familiarly called, is one of those old settlers whose face and form have become, as it were, one of the old landmarks of old Roxbury, so rich in its coterie of oldest inhabitants, while his little shop stands to-day, as it did forty years ago, undismayed by the presence all around it of modern buildings, which make its crude outlines stand out more forcibly and shows its age by comparison.

If you ask "Bill" how old he is he will tell you he is sixty years, but if you ask one of the old settlers he will tell you that according to his "reckonin'" Bill must be "nigh on to ninety years."

If "Bill" was a picturesque character, insomuch that his occupation as village blacksmith rendered it proper to so characterize a man in time gone by, he was rendered more so when two years ago he startled his friends by taking to the altar a buxom lass of thirty-five summers.

It was only about a year previous that death had taken from him his first wife, who had lived to the rare old age of ninety-eight years.

"Bill's" new spouse was a stout girl named Hannah McIvers. She is about six feet tall, with a physique that many a strong man would envy. She was born in County Leitrem, Ireland.

When "Bill's" first wife died there were many stories floating around among the regulation gossips concerning the wealth that she had left behind her in her little apartments over the blacksmith shop. According to the stories she was one of those people who are said to deny themselves the pleasures of life and hoard up in mysterious hiding-places bags of yellow gold, and in the still hours of night find consolation in fondling the shiny pieces.

Some believed these stories, for it was well known that the old blacksmith worked early and late at his forge and always had lots of work to do. He was known to be of a saving disposition, and it was said that his wife, having passed the allotted threescore and ten line, determined that, when her somewhat younger husband should find himself alone and bent down with the results of hard work, he would not want for plenty to eat or a place to lay his head if money could procure them.

According to the stories that have become a chapter in the "Old Settlers' Biographical History of Events from Personal Knowledge," when she died there was great excitement on the "Hill." She had left relatives of various generations, and it is said that, several thousand dollars having been discovered, a good many people shared it besides the old blacksmith. Since then, owing to the effects of competition, "Bill" has not done the rushing business he did formerly, and then, too, he is not able to work as hard as before.

His present wife learned of this change of affairs and without standing on ceremony she went to him and volunteered to work at the forge and save the expense of his hiring a helper. "Bill" only laughed at her, for, besides being a little doubtful of her ability in that line, he had too much chivalry to permit it. But she persisted in her entreaties to be permitted to take her place at his side, and at last he reluctantly consented.

The blacksmith shop is a little story-and-a-half structure opposite the big ledge, known as McCarthy's ledge, on the hill near the Mission church on Tremont street. Until recently the ledge has been worked by a large force of men, and Bill depended on them mostly for his "jobs." He had almost the exclusive charge of sharpening the drills used by the "ledgers," and the work was of a heavy character. Since the introduction of steam drills "Bill" has not had so much to do as before, but he sharpens the new drills, though it requires much more skill and labor than sharpening ordinary tools.

The first day that his new wife stood at the anvil and swung the hammer "Bill" was convinced that she could do what she claimed. From that day out she has stood by his side, never demurring, but working cheerfully and well. "Bill" blows the bellows and handles the iron, and after it is properly heated he holds it on the anvil while his wife hammers it into shape under his direction.

People used to flock around every day and watch them work, but the novelty soon wore off, and the woman blacksmith became a fixture in Roxbury, attracting no unusual attention.

Color of Natural Wool.

There are certain fallacies abroad concerning the proper color of natural wool, and of natural silk, too, for that matter, so that a furnisher is very often compelled to keep his "natural" wool underwear of a decided gray color, and his "natural" silk ditto of a rich salmon pink, which he, furthermore, is expected to verify as being the natural color of the undyed thread, says the Clothier. Now, many a long hour's soak in the dye-tub do both silk and wool undergo to acquire the "natural" color demanded by the public, and the customer is now so used to the deception which his persistently false notion compels the manufacturer to practice, that he would not believe the real, undyed fabric to be genuine if he saw it.

Learning by Ear.

Pupils who learn "by ear," without thought as to the meaning of things, contrive to afford a good deal of amusement to their teachers. Recently a teacher in the grammar school asked one of her boys: "What is the meaning of 'topaz?'" "A topaz," said the boy, "is where the mules walk when they're drawing a canal-boat."

THEY WANT TO ESCAPE.

A Chicago Jailer Talks About His Compulsory Boarders.

The Class of Criminals Who Need the Closest Watching—A French Burglar's Wooden Key—Daring Escape by Way of the Roof.

"I have a frisky lot of guests in my hotel," said Jailer Folz to a Chicago News reporter, "and some of them are so ungrateful that they want to leave without stopping to say good-bye.

"It is an easy matter for an outsider to say: 'Oh! well, they'd never keep me in there. I'd get out somehow,' but this same person, if he ever did get in, would find it a difficult matter to escape.

"Still the prisoners do not yield to their fate as passively as might be expected. There are always men in here who are too lazy to make a move, and I verily believe if the doors were left open they wouldn't have ambition enough to walk out. They are never criminals of any note; too lazy even to commit a big crime.

"But there is another set of fellows who need the closest watching. They are the professional robbers, burglars and thieves. They would as soon hit a guard on the head and snatch his keys as eat their dinner. They don't care two straws about cutting a man's throat, and, knowing that when tried they will probably get a long prison sentence, are rather reckless in their conduct. They keep quiet and orderly, because they know it pays to do so; but give them once a chance and they would make a break for liberty. Some of the most expert burglars get in here at times, and, I tell you, it just keeps us busy to hold those men. They are men who can take almost any material and make any kind of a key out of it. Here is one sample of their work," and the jailer produced a large wooden key.

It was made from the round of a common wooden chair, and was as finely finished as any key could be. The flanges for turning the lock had been made out of another piece of wood, and neatly fitted in.

"That was the work of a French burglar we had in here about nine years ago," said the jailer. "It is the key to the elevator, and works better than our own. How he got the stuff I don't know, but he managed to secure the wood and whittle it out. He never had a chance to use it, however, for I discovered it in time and took possession. Here is another key that was made for the elevator by the notorious Alex McKay. This is of zinc, and was a harder job for the maker than the wooden one." The key was another fine piece of mechanism, being made from a chunk of zinc that had been cut into the right shape with a pocket-knife.

The jailer had no lack of these keys—some made from zinc, others tin, iron and wood, and one curious-looking key had been made from a little tin tube and piece of wood. Another one was composed of the wire of a peach basket and the handle of a pail. They were all marvels in the locksmith line, and showed the ingenuity of the men who had made them. Common table-knives were so notched up as to be made keys, and pocket-knives were also called into requisition. Most of the keys were intended for the elevator, and Jailer Folz explained why that was so.

"It would do them no good to make keys for their cell doors, and they never attempt it. Even were the doors not locked they could not get out. A long rod runs the entire length of each row of cells over the door, preventing it from being opened except when the rod is raised, which is done at the end by one of the guards, who twists up a brake-wheel. This brake-wheel is locked, and whenever the cell doors are closed and the rod lowered the prisoners are fast within. But if, during the daytime, they can get the elevator open they can get down to the kitchen, come up through the laundry, out into the office, and then take their chances of getting past the man at the door. If the move was made at night and the man on guard at the door was overpowered the scheme would work. Some years ago a scheme was concocted by which a number of prisoners were to escape. The ring-leaders planned to have a small explosion take place in the west end of the jail, and while the guards would make a rush to see what was the matter, a certain number were to take one of these elevator keys, go down that way and make a dash for liberty. The plan was feasible, but we nipped it in the bud and had the ring-leaders in the dungeon before they knew what the matter was.

"Another time two prisoners escaped by cutting through the ceiling and getting out on the roof, but they were captured two days later. A number of the prisoners here at times cut out the zinc from their ventilators, hoping to get down through that way. Any number of fruitless efforts are being made, and we have to be continually on the watch. I can nearly always tell when there is any mischief on foot, and then the prisoners and their cells are searched."

An Example of Patience.

As a man of patience Job was simply a weak imitation of the real thing, says the Western Journalist. If you want an example of bona fide patience and long-suffering behold ye gentle and worthy scribe who hath just taken unto himself a weakling newspaper to build up. He feedeth ye slot, so to put it, unceasingly, and between his rising and his lying down he laboreth industriously to inflate his nurseling with a goodly growth. He toileth, far into the night and burneth much oil, or tallow, according to his means, but for all his pains and labor he accomplisheth naught. He looketh and longeth for ye wherewith—all to nurture his weakling and it cometh not, yet he possesseth himself with angelic patience, hoping against hope the while, until the feeble spark goeth out and ye nurseling yieldeth up its life. Then hieth he himself unto a tannery, or some other light and genteel employment, and seeketh a surcease of his woe.

A Short-Sighted Family.

There is a married man in Atlanta, Ga., who wears eye-glasses with a gold rim. His wife wears eye-glasses, too, and the two pairs are just alike. They are the parents of three children, the youngest being ten years of age, and each of the children is near-sighted. They wear eye-glasses, too.

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY.

"To take or not to take it, is the question—
Whether it is better to end this earthly career
A spinster—braving the smiles of those who would insist
That lack of lovers caused my lonely state,—
Or take the remedies my sisters take,
And see my eyes grow bright as tho' I bathed
In the immortal fount De Leon sought
In vain in Florida's peaceful shades.
I oft have heard my married sisters say [tion
That good old Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescrip-
Would bring back color to a faded cheek—
Restore the health of one who fain would die
To rid herself of all the pain she feels."

The aforesaid spinster took the remedy—and forthwith took a husband also, having regained her health and blooming beauty. Thousands of women owe their fresh, blooming countenances to the restorative effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.
